- Do you want to spice up your sex life?
- Does your relationship need a 'zhoozh'?
- Are you interested in attending a sexuality workshop? There are over 12 to choose from!
- Do you want to 'sex up' your corporate or charity function with a presentation about passion?
- Do you want to learn how to initiate a new change in your bedroom behaviour?
- Do you want to know what and how to teach your children about sex?
- Do you want to access Dr Gabrielle for an informative expert quote for your media piece about sexuality?
- Do you want to attend a Bananas and Melons Club Event Urge Party?
- Do you want a private email, phone, or in person consultation about your love life from the expert?

Bananas and Melons provides the answers to all your sexuality questions and curiosities: from dating, mating, and post relationship hating, function and fulfilment, desire, diversity, difference and disease, erotica, emotion and experience.

Bananas and Melons offers sexuality and relationships workshops for couples and singles, parent workshops on comprehensive sexuality education and communication with their children, entertaining and informative public speaking, media consultation, club event parties, purchase of resources, and private sexual and relationship advice on a case-by-case basis.

Bananas and Melons delivers a range of opportunities and services in sexology, across Australia and around the world, non-judgementally, with the most current knowledge and research, and with complete sensitivity, sassy humour, straight-forward wisdom, practical strategies, and solid take-home (and take to bed!) value for all, packaged in the grounded philosophy of sexology in balance.
