SEXOLOGY IN BALANCE

BANANAS AND MELONS PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE MEDIA RELEASE

The 6:30 timeslot heats up on TV this Monday May 23rd, as Channel 7's Today Tonight program airs a segment on how to keep your relationship passionate, featuring sexologist Dr Gabrielle Morrissey.

Dr Gabrielle answers questions about the importance of sex in a relationship, the difficulties with sexual communication between intimate partners, and the differences between a companionate marriage and a passionate one. Dr Gabrielle outlines her "5 P's" of maintaining passion in any relationship.

Dr Gabrielle also introduces Australia's newest, and most versatile sex accessory, 'Loving-Angles'. Dr Gabrielle is pleased to announce her endorsement of this hot new product, and describes it as "building blocks of pleasure" which can be used "for an instant love life transformation"!

For more information about Dr Gabrielle, her couple workshops, tips on keeping your love life passionate, and answers to the most common (and uncommon) sexual questions, visit the Bananas and Melons website. And if you'd like to receive further information about Loving-Angles 'sexational furniture' – including a discount on purchase and delivery – click on the Loving-Angles link from the Bananas and Melons homepage.
